$52.02 Million Jackpot Split Three Ways!

What do 35 GTE employees, a United Express pilot and a golf course director have in common? They split the Sept. 12 SuperLotto jackpot of $52.02 million. Each of the three winning SuperLotto tickets is worth $17.34 million.

Sacramento Winner

David Baldi, 32, of Sacramento, told reporters at a Lottery news conference he plans to continue flying as a pilot for United Express. His wife, Lee, commented that, "this morning I called in sick. Now I may be in trouble." She quit her job as a Budget Analyst for the County of San Mateo. The Baldis' winning ticket, worth $17.34 million, was purchased at Bel Air Market in Elk Grove.

Pomona Group Winners

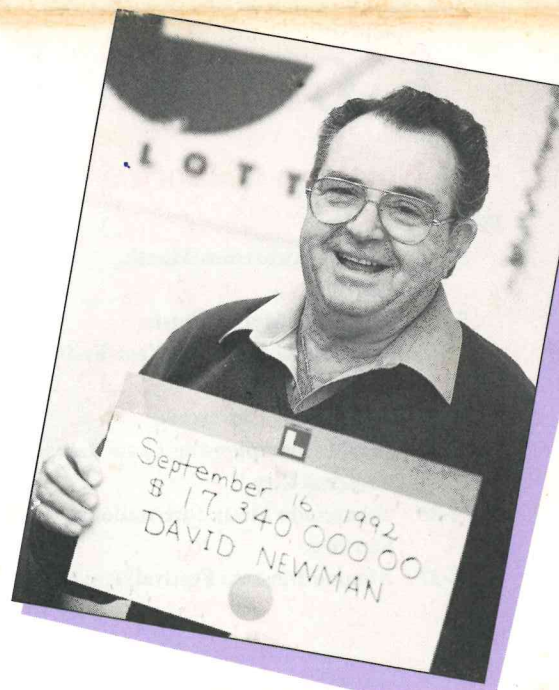

The GTE employees, mostly analysts, assistant engineers and clerks, each contributed $10 to buy their SuperLotto tickets. Before winning, group leader, John Cincotta, subscribed "Early Retirement - The Big Plan" on a photocopy of all their winning tickets. The winners will use their Lottery jackpot monies to: build retirement homes, pay their children's college tuitions, pay off mortgages, and travel. One of the members of this group, Crecencio Hurtado, won $1 million on "The Big Spin" show three years ago. The group's winning ticket was purchased at 7-Eleven on East Foothill Boulevard in Pomona.

Belmont Winner

David Newman, a 57-year-old golf course director from Belmont, was already semi-retired when he won his $17.34 million jackpot prize. He checked his numbers at work on the Monday following the draw. Not believing his eyes, he then had a golf starter at the golf course read the numbers backward and forward to him. He then had an on-site restaurant manager check the numbers. Finally convinced he had won, he put his winning ticket in his pocket and went out to play in a golf tournament. He claimed his SuperLotto prize the next day. The winning ticket was purchased at Crystal Springs Wine and Spirits in Crystal Springs Shopping Center in San Mateo. Three years ago, the same store sold a $22.18 million Lotto ticket to a San Mateo winner.

The Baldis and Newman will each receive $867,000 each year for 20 years before taxes. The GTE employees will each receive a total jackpot prize of $495,428 which is $24,771 each year for 20 years before taxes.

Ask

The Director

To start off our question and answer column, I thought it would be appropriate to address questions most often asked of Lottery personnel. Following are two questions I'm often asked when traveling around the state meeting players and Lottery retailers.

Q: Who gets the interest earned on the large prizes that are paid over 20 years?

A: First, both the interest and the principal on an installment prize go to the winner. Those prizes ("Big Spin" grand prizes of $1 million or more and SuperLotto jackpot prizes) are funded by U.S. Treasury zero-coupon bonds.

Here's how it works: To pay a $1 million installment prize, for example, the Lottery has only half that amount (about $500,000) in cash. The first payment of $50,000 is made in cash. The other $450,000 is used to purchase bonds, which come due each year for 19 years. The winner receives annual payments of $50,000 as the bonds mature. The interest earned by the bonds makes up the other half of the prize. At the end of 20 years, the winner has received all the interest and the principal. The Lottery earns nothing on these investments.

Q: Why does the Lottery have so many games?

A: Most companies selling a product offer their customers more than one choice: McDonald's offers more than just hamburgers. Hershey's offers more than plain chocolate candy bars. And Baskin-Robbins offers more than vanilla ice cream. Even though most people buy vanilla, Baskin-Robbins would be a pretty boring place if that's all they sold. So, they offer chocolate, strawberry and 28 other flavors. Just as the people of California are all different, so are their tastes in Lottery games. Even though most people play SuperLotto, there are some who prefer a game with smaller prizes and better odds. That's why we offer Fantasy 5. Some people don't like to wait several days to find out if they won. So we offer them Daily 3 and Scratchers. As your Lottery, we have a responsibility to offer you the games you like and we know from you that not one game satisfies everyone. So, that's why we offer a variety of games.

Don't forget; If you have a question you would like answered, write me at the following address and we'll include your question in this column.

CALIFORNIA EDUCATION

The California Lottery was created by a vote of the people in November 1984. The mission of the Lottery is to raise non-tax-generated funds for public education through the sale of Lottery tickets.

The Lottery's annual contribution to education is equivalent to about 2 to 3 percent of the state's total education budget. Since the sale of Lottery tickets began in 1985, public education has received more than $5.3 billion in Lottery funds.

Lottery revenues are distributed quarterly to school districts throughout the state. Decisions about their use are made at the local level by elected school officials. The Lottery has no voice in determining how education funds are spent. The only limitations set by law are that Lottery funds may not be used for the construction or purchase of buildings, or for research.

While its contribution is significant, the Lottery was never intended to serve as the primary funding source for California education. Proceeds from the Lottery are supplemental only. Your support and tax dollars are necessary to operate our schools.

"Watch And Win" Winner Now $10,000 Richer

Josephine Hollendrake said, "Things are really taking off this year" after she won $10,000 and a SONY Walkman in the California Lottery's Watch and Win Scratcher promotion last August.

Josephine had purchased six Fun in the Sun Scratchers at the Plaza Market in Pacific Palisades. One of her non-winning tickets matched the serial numbers of those drawn on the "Big Spin" show, making her the winner of a SONY Walkman. She was automatically entered into a second-chance draw and won the $10,000 grand prize.

Josephine was not the only Hollendrake on a winning streak in August. Her husband, Roy, won $83 playing SuperLotto the week after Josephine's big win.

The Hollendrades, former residents of Ireland, will use their grand-prize winnings to travel to the Emerald Isle to visit with friends and relatives. They have not been back to Ireland since they moved to California six years ago.

During the Watch and Win promotion, 552 players each won a SONY Walkman or SONY Watchman.

Two Spinners Hit Millions

On Sept. 5, Marsha Lamb, a department store salesperson from French Camp, in San Joaquin County, spun the wheel to win $1 million as her family watched from the audience. Lamb plans to use her winnings to take a Hawaiian vacation and help her six children.

Her winning Big Spin "Chance" Scratcher was purchased at the Corner Market in French Camp.

Mark Seltzer, a mortgage broker from San Diego, won the largest Big Spin prize, $2 million, on "The Big Spin" on Oct. 24. His entry was a winning "GO-GO-GO" ticket from the Big Spin Scratcher game which was purchased at the Palomar Market in San Diego. Seltzer's first spin rolled into "Double", which meant his second spin would be worth twice the amount. He spun the wheel and hit $1 million.
